Chemical spill at Borg Warner forces plant operations shutdown

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK
Plant operations at Borg Warner Chemicals, Inc. in the Port Bienville Industrial Park are shut down following a styrene leak from a barge moored at the loading dock. The incident has shut down plant operations for an undetermined period of time but is not expected to last more than a few days, Plant Manager Leo Kowal reported Saturday.

The shutdown was necessary because water entered with the raw material into the storage tank and actually froze up the process, he added.

"We must drain the water from the storage tank which was pumped from the barge before we can begin operations again," Kowal said.

The leak from Chotin tank barge 1414 was detected late Friday afternoon.

Kowal reported immediate measures were taken by Borg Warner employees to contain the spill which was leaking at a rate of approximately two gallons per minute intermittently throughout the night.

Lighting operations, to transfer the materials from the port side of the barge to the starboard side, were started by 3 a.m. to remove the styrene from the barge and eliminate the source of the spill. A diver repaired the barge leak, Kowal said.

Cleanup of the material, which was contained in the dock area, began in the daylight hours and should be completed in 2-3 days, he said.

"We want to emphasize that this situation is stabilized," said Bob Rogers, head of the emergency services section of the Mississippi Bureau of Pollution Control.

"Styrene is relatively non-reactive, insoluble, and stable in water," Kowal said, "and therefore is easily removed from the surface of the water."

Rogers added that although the amount of styrene that leaked from the barge is undetermined, this is not what would be called a significant spill.

POOR VISIBILITY CAUSES ACCIDENTS—Accidents involving 10 vehicles on the Bay of St. Louis Bridge at the intersection of Beach Boulevard in Bay St. Louis Thursday were attributed to a heavy fog. Police Chief Ray Murphy, right, checks as Mike Perniclaro of N.A. Perniclaro Wrecker Service sweeps debris caused by accident. Only one person, Darlene Acker of Bay St.

Louis was taken to Hancock General Hospital. At the hospital she treated in the emergency room for facial cuts and released according to Mary Perkins, HGH Community Relations director. Three others were also reported to have minor injuries. Murphy said visibility was 'very poor' due to a heavy fog. Additional photo and story on Page 2-A. (Staff photo by Ellis Cuevas).

Necaise looks ahead to changes, challenges

BY DENA BISNETTE
The Hancock County Chancery Clerk's office faces challenges and innovations during 1986.

According to Chancery Clerk Michael Necaise, changes currently in progress or expected during 1986 are designed to make the office run more efficiently.

Necaise said his goal is to give Hancock County the best chancery clerk's office in the state.

"Our county is growing and we need to grow with it," the clerk said.

"I feel real good about our office. Behind every good office you have good employees and I think my staff is second to none. I couldn't do this job without them."

Many of the changes currently underway are technical and related to record keeping.

Microfilming of records has continued from last year. Necaise said the microfilming is being done to protect records and deteriorated books have been moved to locations other than the courthouse for storage.

In addition, the office's computer system was expanded last year and Necaise hopes to continue the expansion to include tax redemption records.

"That would mean we could have our computer linked with the one in the tax office, which would cut down on the possibility of error," he explained.

"We eventually hope to put the court records for this office on computer and the landrolls on computer, but it will take time to get it all put in."

The office is receiving assistance with its computerization project from South Mississippi Planning and Development District.

A second major change in the chancery clerk's office that is being used this year is a new bookkeeping system.

Under the new system, the clerk's office has to account not only for funds that have been spent, but funds that have been committed for spending.

The new system was implemented during 1985 through the efforts of State Auditor Ray Mabius and is designed to make the records in the clerk's office consistent with those of any other chancery clerk in the state.

The office is also beginning its first year in some time with all of its audits up-to-date, Necaise said.

In addition, the clerk has written a policy manual for his employees.

"We really haven't changed anything. I just put it in writing. This is the first time in my administration that we've had anything like this."

Necaise is also continuing his policy of making his office as open to the public as possible.

"If anyone has a question, he can call or come in to see me. My door is always open," he said.

One of the biggest challenges Necaise must help the county face as chancery clerk this year is the Grand Jury finds no misconduct at Methodist day care center

The January Grand Jury has found no misconduct in connection with allegations concerning the Methodist Children's Day Care Center.

The Grand Jury heard several witnesses in the case and found "...insufficient proof to substantiate any of the charges and determined that the accusations were unfounded."

In addition, the Grand Jury recommended the establishment of a central dispatching point for the Hancock County Sheriff's Department and the Bay St. Louis and Waveland police departments.

The central dispatcher would be housed in the new county jail, which is presently under construction.

The Grand Jury also recommended that the county board of supervisors take immediate action to find new facilities for the Hancock County Welfare Department, stating that the present working conditions are "substandard and unhealthy."

The Grand Jury was convened Monday and submitted its report to Judge Rubie Griffin late Friday afternoon.

A complete text of the report follows:

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT OF HANCOCK COUNTY JANUARY, 1986 TERM GRAND JURY REPORT TO THE HONORABLE J. RUBIE GRIFFIN, CIRCUIT JUDGE PRESIDING

We, the Grand Jury for January, 1986 Term of Court, having been selected, sworn, and charged submit the following final report:

We were empaneled January 13, 1986, and having considered 57 cases of which we returned 45 true bills, 5 no true bills, left 5 pending to be passed to the next Grand Jury, and referred 2 cases to other courts.

The Grand Jury recommends that the July, 1986, Grand Jury be furnished copies of this report as their first order of business and that the Grand Jury will make a diligent inquiry to see if the recommendations made in the previous Grand Jury report have been followed.

All county supervisors and administrations of the Cities of Bay St.

Louis and Waveland are to be furnished copies of this report, as well as State Senators Martin Smith and Gene Taylor, State Representative Walter James Phillips, the school boards of Bay St. Louis Separate Municipal School District and Hancock County, and the State Board of Education.

We recommend the duly elected Supervisors of this County of Hancock read and study the findings and recommendations of this Grand Jury and make them a part of their minutes.

The Grand Jury heard reports from the following officials: Mr. Eddie Murtagh, Hancock County Tax Assessor and Collector; Mr. Terrell GRAND JURY—Page 5A

NSTL complex designated National Landmark

The rocket propulsion test complex at the National Space Technology Laboratories has been designated a National Historic Landmark by the Secretary of the Interior.

The test complex and other NASA properties received the designation for having "national significance in the history of the United States," according to the National Park Service which selects the landmarks.

Designation as a National Historic Landmark automatically places the test complex in the National Register of Historic Places and extends to it the safeguards and benefits provided by the National Historic Preservation Act and other federal laws protecting historic properties.

The NSTL complex includes three test stands, two test control centers and other specialized facilities to support the testing of large rocket propulsion systems.

The main mission of NSTL is support of Space Shuttle main engine and main orbiter propulsion system testing. Static test firings are conducted on the same huge test towers used from 1966 to 1970 to captive-fire all first and second stages of the Saturn V used in the Apollo manned lunar landing and Skylab programs.

Shuttle main engine testing has been under way at NSTL since 1975.

The test complex is featured on guided tours of the 13,500-acre center located in Hancock County. When shuttle main engine tests are conducted during Visitors Center operating hours of 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., guests are transported to the test complex to view the firings.

The Interior Department's National Park Service studied approximately 350 sites associated with early space exploration before choosing twenty-two that best illustrated the early years of the American Space Program. Only eight states, Ohio, Texas, California, Maryland, Virginia, Alabama, New Mexico, and Mississippi are represented in the "Man in Space" project.

Other properties selected for landmark designation include the Apollo Mission Control Center at the Johnson Space Center in Houston and the Space Flight Operations Facility at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory in Pasadena, Calif.

HISTORICAL LANDMARK—NASA's test site including three test stands, two test control centers and other specialized facilities to support testing of large rocket propulsion systems at National Space Technology Laboratories in Hancock County has been designated a National Historic Landmark by the U.S. Department of The Interior.

QUALIFYING DEADLINE

Monday is the qualifying deadline for candidates from the territory outside Bay St. Louis corporate limits to file for the March 1 Bay St. Louis School Board election.

Qualifying petitions are being taken at the office of the superintendent of education at Bay Senior High School.

Shannon A. Acker, 9, son of June Acker of Pearlington, was in critical but stable condition Friday afternoon, a hospital spokesperson said.

According to Hancock County Sheriff's Deputy David Garcia, Acker and a companion, Onekin Green, 10, also of Pearlington, were hit by a vehicle as they crossed White's Road at about 5:45 p.m.

Green, daughter of Evelyn Green of Pearlington, received minor injuries and was treated at Hancock General Hospital and released, Community Relations Director Mary Perkins said.

The vehicle which hit the children was driven by Debra Malone Acker, 28, also of Pearlington.

New South Central Bell cable to cross Bay

By ELLIS CUEVAS

South Central Bell Telephone Company will begin laying a submarine fibre optic cable across the Bay of St. Louis on Tuesday.

Pat Santucci, district manager for South Central Bell's Gulf Coast said, "The 10,200 feet of cable should cross the Bay without a splice."

"If this happens, it will be the longest stretch of submarine cable in the State of Mississippi," Santucci added.

The cable laying has been contracted by South Central Bell and should take two to three days to complete.

Four suffer minor injuries in Bay Bridge accidents

BY DENA BISNETTE

Heavy fog on US-90 Bay St. Louis Bridge Thursday morning resulted in four accidents involving 10 cars, but only four minor injuries.

According to Bay Police Chief Ray Murphy, the first accident occurred at about 8 a.m. when a vehicle driven by Alexander Morris of Gulfport stopped at the red light on the Bay St. Louis side and a second vehicle ran into the back of his car.

A third car hit the first two and the other three accidents followed.

"We were already there and we tried to slow them down, but we were helpless. People would see the accident, lock their brakes and slide into each other," Murphy said.

He said the visibility was "very poor" and the drivers of vehicles coming up behind the first accident were mostly driving too fast for conditions, although they may not have been driving over the posted speed limit.

Only one person involved was taken to a hospital. Hancock General Hospital Community Relations Director Mary Perkins said Darlene Acker of Bay St. Louis was treated in the emergency room for facial cuts and released.

Three others were also reported to have minor injuries.

Murphy added that some of the vehicles sustained heavy damage, but most drove away.

Quotables by CUEVAS

It has been many years since we have seen the fog in the area as thick as it was Thursday morning.

It was the topic of discussion around town by most folks for the entire day.

It was kind of scary trying to take photos of the accidents on the Bay Bridge attributed to the fog.

It also was hard to see from one side of the structure to the other, much less any distance down the highway.

Fog can be a problem and folks traveling to New Orleans Thursday also had troubles with many being late for work.

The Grand Jury report issued late Friday made several recommendations, and one was an item that has already been discussed on many occasions.

The establishment of a central dispatcher for the sheriff's department in addition to Bay St. Louis and Waveland police departments in the new county jail is the talked about recommendation.

The schedule for the new jail is to have the facility completed by next January.

Things start by talking about them and in many instances, after several years they come into reality.

So, one day there may be a central dispatch for local law enforcement agencies.

It appears our State Senators and Representatives have some very big issues facing them in Jackson.

The primary concern of all appears to be state finances, which are also a problem for most local governing bodies.

Another big item facing the Legislature is the College Board's proposal to close two state universities, in addition to cutbacks of other educational facilities.

We also know many Coastal residents are concerned about the proposal to close the University of Southern Mississippi at Gulf Park.

State Senator Gene Taylor has introduced a bill to close four of the state's eight universities but the bill will not affect Gulf Park.

There will for sure be some arguing points on the College Board's recommendations, and a lot of discussions on Senator Taylor's bill.

Lack of funding appears to be the primary reason for the two proposed school cutting measures.

Next year is an election year for state and local officials and a tax increase this session is very unlikely.

We will just have to wait and see, and expect many cost cutting proposals our Legislative bodies will have to make.

PHYSICIAN'S FRIEND—The old adage that "a dog is man's best friend" may carry more weight than ever imagined. Preliminary studies indicate that there is a link between animals and improved human conditions. Improved physical health and longevity, reduced stress and blood pressure, improved mental well-being and increased self-esteem, it seems are among the "extra"

benefits of having a pet. Sally, center, on loan from the Louisiana SPCA, obviously was a big hit with patient Walter Crawley of Waveland and Angie Weber, recreation therapist at The Rehabilitation Institute of New Orleans at F. Edward Hebert Hospital. Hebert sponsors monthly visits by the SPCA.

Matters of Health

BACTERIAL ARTHRITIS

I've read that arthritis can be caused by infections. How does this happen and is the arthritis permanent?

Infection, in some instances, may cause swelling and pain in the joints.

Bloodstream-borne bacteria - a sign of disease - usually are the culprit. These bacteremic episodes may lead to septic, or infected, joints when the bacteria crosses from the blood vessels into the fluid bathing the joints.

Bacterial arthritis, however, also may be a result of direct infection which can occur after joint surgery, a penetrating wound or an injection into the joint.

A septic joint caused by blood infection usually occurs in someone prone to such an infection. At-risk individuals often have poor infection-fighting immune systems, resulting from some underlying chronic illness, such as cancer and liver disease. Arthritis, joint trauma - including surgery, lupus, gout and pseudogout - are other conditions that many predispose to bacterial arthritis.

Bacterial arthritis can strike at any age, however, which bacterial agent infects the joint is fairly age-specific. The elderly and the very young, mostly newborns, who acquire bacterial arthritis often are infected with streptococcal and staphylococcal bacteria.

Intravenous drug users, patients with indwelling catheters, and those with prior joint damage more often are infected with unusual bacteria, such as gram-negative bacilli.

These infections often are difficult to eradicate. This form of bacterial arthritis usually involves only one joint. The knee is affected most often, followed by the shoulder, wrist, hip, finger joints, and elbow joints.

Young, healthy adults are those most likely to be infected by the gonorrhea class of bacteria. This form of bacterial arthritis is now one of the most frequently seen in many hospitals. Gonococcal infection often involves two or more joints. In addition, these infections cause skin sores on the arms, legs and trunk.

Direct infection of the joints is another source of bacterial arthritis. Deep penetrating wounds, certain bone-disease complications, intra-articular steroid injections, arthroscopy and prosthetic-joint surgery each may introduce bacteria into the joint space.

A low incidence of direct joint infection is attributed to artificial joint surgery, but the occurrence can rise in cases which involve underlying joint diseases such as osteoarthritis or rheumatoid arthritis. Further surgery on the replaced joint introduces a high risk for infection and may result in bacterial arthritis.

Treatment for bacterial arthritis includes using antibiotics, draining the swollen joint, and resting the joint. Antibiotic therapy usually is prescribed aggressively and administered intramuscularly or intravenously.

Response is rapid in most cases, but total removal of the joint infection may take several weeks.

Anti-inflammatory medications also may be necessary in some cases to relieve the pain and swelling in difficult cases. Recovery is complete in most cases of bacterial arthritis caused by gonococcal infection.

Residual joint damage, however, is not uncommon in patients afflicted with staphylococcal or streptococcal infection.

The outcome depends on a number of factors - the duration of symptoms before treatment, the body's reaction to infection, prior joint disease, the type of bacteria, and the joint or joints involved.

Bacterial arthritis is a serious condition. It should receive immediate medical attention.

The People's Business

A Weekly Editorial
From Mississippi Economic Council

The Mississippi Economic Council has called for a merger of the state's Department of Economic Development and the Research and Development Center in order to strengthen Mississippi's economic development effort.

At the same time, the council, the state's largest association of business, industrial, and professional members, called for specific steps by the Legislature and declared that the organization will oppose any efforts to increase taxes in Mississippi until better use is made of tax dollars presently collected.

Statements from the council came as the organization's board of directors held its regular semi-annual meeting in Jackson. Members of the 88-member board came from every geographic section of the state.

Announcement of the board's actions came from Marlin Ivey, a Kosciusko business owner who serves this year as MEC chairman.

The recommendation for a merger of the Department of Economic Development and the Research and Development Center follows a six-month study of the two agencies, Ivey said.

The study was conducted by a special MEC committee chaired by Jackson banker Paul Fugate. Fugate's committee is a part of the Council's Committee on State and Local Government chaired by Jackson attorney Kane Ditto.

The study of the merger of the two economic development agencies included examination of the legislative origin of the two bodies, legislative intent in the creation of the agencies, and activities of the two agencies since their creation.

The report said Mississippi's dream was that the partnership between the then Agricultural and Industrial Board - now the Department of Economic Development - and the R & D Center would give to this state a development program "unlike anything in America."

That dream, said MEC, has never been realized.

The council said its study revealed duplication of effort, competition at times, lack of cooperation, and, at times, political interference within the two agencies.

Budgets of the two agencies, combined, total about $10 million per year.

The Department of Economic Development is directed by a board appointed by the governor. The R & D Center is under the direction of the Board of Trustees of Institutions of Higher Learning. The MEC report said the board of trustees had apparently given insufficient attention to the operation of the center.

In its statement the council said, "Based upon ability to pay, Mississippians are already among the most heavily burdened taxpayers in the southern states, and tax increases in excess of $235 million have been imposed over the past four years. The Mississippi Economic Council opposes, and encourages all Mississippians to oppose, any additional tax increase at state or local levels until actions are taken to assure improvements in the use of tax dollars already collected."

In other actions, the council endorsed legislation restricting collection of "non-economic" damages in liability lawsuits as a means of curbing the rapidly expanding number of lawsuits being filed against businesses, called for creation of a state department of transportation, and adopted a resolution commending the life of Edmund Taylor of Greenville, the council's founder 37 years ago who died recently.

In addition to these positions, the board named as chairman Alan Barton, president of Mississippi Power Company of Gulfport, and elected Jackson attorney Kenneth Milam as vice chairman and chairman-elect.

Columbus business owner William McClure was named as treasurer. These new officers will begin their duties on May 1.

The Sea Coast Echo
Bay St. Louis

Dear Sir:

I am writing this note to commend the outstanding job done by personnel of the Bay St. Louis Fire Department, the Sheriff's Department, the Welfare Department, and the citizens of Diamondhead this past Christmas in collecting and distributing gifts and food for less privileged county residents, especially children.

It has been a thrill to have assisted the Parents Association of Diamondhead (PAD) in this project for the last several years.

Mrs. Guy King, the Diamondhead coordinator for the project, and I have had numerous contacts with both welfare and fire department personnel during this drive, and their dedication is very heartwarming.

They spent countless hours buying, wrapping, refurbishing, and delivering presents throughout the county to people who otherwise would not have had any celebration at all.

When PAD learned through the Welfare Department of the tremendous need this year, it decided to ask the Diamondhead community to participate.

In the past, the members of PAD and the students at Diamondhead Little School have been the contributors.

The response was excellent. Little School came through beautifully, as always, and the new Diamondhead Academy and the Girl Scouts were very active, and many individuals called us to ask to "adopt" children or even entire families for Christmas.

In the end, here in Diamondhead alone, we collected more than 200 wrapped new presents, and a huge amount of food—enough to supply large food baskets to many families.

In this connection, the Diamondhead Supermarket owner-manger, Mr. Howard Hamilton, should be mentioned because he gave a fine price on purchases for the project made through the store.

The publicity given by the Echo was excellent, and brought to the attention of the public the great need for giving that exists in this area.

We hope that residents of Hancock County will keep up this tradition and that other communities will become involved.

Chief Andrew Lizana of the Bay St. Louis Fire Department told us that about 650 children's needs had to be met this past Christmas (they were) and it is probable that even more will need assistance next year.

Very sincerely,
Frances Pike
Diamondhead

Many of the donors who spoke with us said that the greatest fun that they had during the Holiday Season was in buying gifts for these people.

We are already thinking forward to Christmas of 1986, and hope that even more people will join in this worthwhile drive.

MISSISSIPPI
CONSUMER REPORT
A Service of the Consumer Protection Division
Of The Office Of
Edwin Lloyd Pittman, Attorney General

Attorney General Ed Pittman announced that General Motors Corporation has paid $305,000 to 840 Mississippi consumers from January 1984 to February 1985 through a nationwide mediation/arbitration program conducted by the Better Business Bureau.

Under the Federal Trade Commission's Consent Order, General Motors set up a nationwide arbitration program in conjunction with the National Council of Better Business Bureaus through which consumers may obtain reimbursements or repairs for the following problems:

- 1) The THM 200 transmission,
- 2) Camshafts and lifters in 305 and 350 cubic inch Chevrolet gasoline engines, and
- 3) Fuel injection pumps and fuel injectors in 350 cubic inch Oldsmobile diesel engines. Pittman states that the program will continue to operate through 1991.

Once consumers contact the Better Business Bureau, an arbitration hearing should be held within 60 days.

The arbitration hearing will be at a time and place convenient to the consumer. There will be no charge to consumers, nor will they need lawyers. It is important that consumers bring any documents they have concerning their problem, including copies of repair bills.

The arbitration hearings are binding on General Motors, but not on the consumer, unless he or she accepts the award. A consumer who is not satisfied with the outcome of the hearing may reject the arbitrator's decision and pursue the matter further through a private suit.

Arbitration information kits which provide factual details on each of the three (3) major problem areas have been prepared by the Attorney General's Office of Consumer Protection and are available to consumers.

For further information, write the Attorney General's Office, Consumer Protection Division, P.O. Box 220, Jackson, MS 39213 or call 354-6018 or our toll free number 1-800-223-5615.

Boyfriend arrested in Yetta stabbing

A rejected boyfriend has been arrested in connection with the stabbing death of former Bay St. Louis resident Maria Yetta.

A.J. Freeman of Kenner was arrested Monday in St. John the Baptist Parish, La., and charged with first-degree murder and attempted murder.

Yetta, 23, had apparently told Freeman she wished to stop seeing him when he visited her at her Metairie, La., apartment on Jan. 12 just before the stabbing occurred.

Freeman also allegedly attacked Yetta's roommate, 20-year-old Michelle Jones, who apparently attempted to aid Yetta when the man knocked her down and stabbed her in the parking lot of the Westchester Apartments.

Jones was scheduled to undergo surgery Friday at Charity Hospital

to facial damage sustained in the attack.

She reportedly told authorities that Yetta and Freeman were arguing about Yetta's decision not to see him any longer because he had been hitting her.

Yetta, the daughter of Marilyn Rauxet and stepdaughter of Nick Rauxet, both of Bay St. Louis, had lived in Metairie since October.

She was a native of New Orleans but had spent most of her life in Bay St. Louis, where she was a member of Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church.

She had been a cheerleader at North Bay Elementary School and Bay Junior High and was a Bay High graduate.

She had been an employee of Sound Shop in the Esplanade Mall in Kenner.

Randolph, Superintendent of Hancock County Schools; Mr. Mike Necaise, Hancock County Chancery Clerk; Mr. Ronnie Peterson, Hancock County Sheriff; Mr. David Watts, Director of Hancock County Forestry Commission; Mr. John Rutherford, Hancock County Circuit Clerk; Mr. John Kirkland, Probation Officer, MDOC; Mr. James DeBlanc, Director of the Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission; Mr. Dolph Kellar, President of the Board of Supervisors; and Mr. Alvin Ladrner, Investigator, Hancock County Sheriff's Department. We are satisfied that these offices are operating efficiently and within the scope of their duties.

In addition, the Grand Jury toured the Hancock Sheriff's office and jail, the Tax Assessor's Annex, Bayou Cadet facilities, Stennis Field Airport facilities, Port Bienvenue Industrial Park, and the Welfare Department.

We thank the Hancock County Retired Senior Citizens Volunteer Program for furnishing the Grand Jury with transportation and a courteous driver, Pamela Labat Jones.

The Grand Jury wishes to commend the Hancock County Sheriff's Department, the Bay St. Louis and Waveland Police Departments, and the Mississippi State Highway Patrol for their outstanding job as to the professional manner in presenting cases to the Grand Jury.

We recommend the following:

1) the establishment of a central police dispatcher to include the county and the municipalities to be housed in the new jail facility;

2) that the Board of Supervisors consider increasing the funding for the Hancock County Sheriff's Department;

3) that the Board of Supervisors take immediate action to provide adequate facilities for the Welfare Department as the present building and working conditions are substandard and unhealthy;

4) that Mr. Terrell Randolph, Superintendent of Education of Hancock County, continue to pursue the renegotiation of Section Sixteen (16) leases with speed and diligence.

Further, that a portion of the funds resulting from the lease renegotiations be set aside for the hiring of a land management consultant to help in the management of these lands. Additional help would enable Mr. Randolph to devote more time to the education of the children of Hancock County.

5) Further, that the Hancock County and Bay-Waveland Separate Municipal School Districts investigate a source of funding to reinstate the Drug Education Specialist into the education program of the County and City schools.

6) We recommend that the Port and Harbor Commission take immediate action to correct the deplorable condition of the grounds which exist at Bayou Cadet. Further, that the Commission conduct routine safety inspections of equipment in operation at the Bayou Cadet property.

7) We must commend the Port and Harbor Commission on their efforts at Stennis Field and request that they continue their efforts to attract blue chip industries in order to utilize to the fullest extent the facilities.

The Grand Jury heard evidence and considered allegations concerning misconduct in the operation of The Methodist Children's Center. After hearing testimony of several witnesses, the Grand Jury concluded that there was insufficient proof to substantiate any of the charges and determined the accusations were unfounded.

This Grand Jury worked in unison and harmony in carrying out all its duties and responsibilities. We wish to express our gratitude to the Court; the District Attorney, Mr. Cimo Carranza; Assistant District Attorney, Mr. J. P. Compretta; Assistant District Attorney, Ms.

Margaret Alfonso; Prosecuting Attorney, Mr. John Genin for their guidance and assistance.

Finally, we would like to thank the Honorable J. Ruble Griffin for the charge he gave us when we were empaneled. Our tenure has been very educational and enlightening into the problems of Hancock County.

We have completed our duties and respectfully ask to be discharged this the 17th day of January, 1986.

Friendship Oak Chapter DAR

BY JOE PILET, RECORDING SECRETARY

Mrs. James R. Thomas of Long Beach received a unanimous vote to serve as regent of the Friendship Oak Chapter, National Society Daughters of the American Revolution when that organization met recently at the Ramada Inn of Long Beach.

Mrs. George E. Cassis of Diamondhead who serves as chairman of the nominating committee said: "Our entire slate was unanimously accepted. They will be installed in May when our chapter meets beneath the Friendship Oak Tree. These officers were elected to serve a three year term and include Mrs. Robert C. Willems, vice regent; Mrs. Hazel Erhard, recording secretary; Mrs. Nunez (Joe) Pilet, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Larry R. Lisenbee, chaplain; Mrs. Wm. J. Gemmel, treasurer; Mrs. Philip R. Davenport, registrar; Mrs. Elsie Day Hutto, historian; and Mrs. Ruth Slade, librarian."

Prior to the luncheon, hosted by Mrs. Pilet, guests were welcomed and included Mrs. Francis McKendrick of West Palm Beach, Florida; Mrs. Jean Thomas of Long Beach, Ms. and Mrs. Marie Marlin of Goshen, Indiana.

The long banquet table was tastefully decorated with low containers filled with a variety of carnations given by Mrs. Pam Welsh in memory of her father who established Renike Cypress Grove Nursery. Each person in attendance also received an assortment of favors provided by Merchants Bank, Peoples Saving and Loan, and Security Savings all of Bay St. Louis. Receiving the door prize provided by Mrs. Richard Thames was Mrs. George Lipscomb of Bay St. Louis.

Regent Davenport introduced prospective members who were voted upon and whose applications are being sent to headquarters in Washington for approval. These candidates include three sisters, Misses Kathryn Lee Kingsberry, Majorie Eaton Kingsberry and Barbara Loretta Kingsberry, all of Diamondhead, also Ms. Ava Warren of Long Beach and Ms. Elizabeth C. Bosley Shaw of Bay St. Louis.

Formally welcomed as new members were Mrs. Dorothy Roberts of Long Beach and Mrs. George Lipscomb of Bay St. Louis.

Mrs. Mark Payne of Long Beach discussed the issue of making it harder for spies. Her remarks were based on information gleaned from 'The National Defender.'

"Probably," the article stated, "the most controversial of the commission's recommendations is for the expanded use of random lie detector tests for military personnel and civilian contractors who handle sensitive material. Many people recoil instinctively to such tests. Random polygraph tests raise questions about invasion of privacy and about the presumption of innocence and loyalty. However, people who voluntarily take jobs entailing access to sensitive defense secrets must be deemed to have waived at least some of their rights to privacy."

The lie detector is an impersonal machine, Payne explained, and added: "Yet the machine because it is impersonal, can dispel distrust as well as raise it."

Assisting Regent Davenport in leading the ritual was Mrs. Erhard, serving pro tem as chaplain.

The next meeting of the chapter is scheduled for Wednesday, Feb. 12, with Mrs. Lisenbee serving as hostess, and guest speaker Mrs. Tate Thigpen presenting a program on music of the South.

potential end of federal revenue sharing funds, scheduled to be discontinued this year.

One of his jobs as clerk is purchasing agent for the board of supervisors and Necaise will have to assist with implementation of any plan the board finds for functioning without those funds.

"We're worried that without the revenue sharing that the county has received since 1971 being cut out, the money from gas wells declining and the state enforcing the five percent limit on fund carryovers, money will be tight toward the end of the year."

"We can't raise taxes and may have to cut some services. It will be left to the board to decide which ones but the cuts will have to be made where they will have the least effect on the people," he added.

"County governments, unlike the federal governments, can't run on red ink."

"We're not overspending, but we would be losing about $500,000 in revenue sharing we've been accustomed to having."

"As a whole the county had a good year in 1985 and we're looking for a better one. We have a good county but we have to keep looking for ways to improve it and provide a better quality of government for less cost," Necaise said.

Necaise said he is also looking forward to the continued growth of the county, particularly economic growth through new industries coming in, like the proposed Baldwin Aircraft plant at Stennis Airport.

"If Baldwin's plans materialize, it will be a big boost for the county," the clerk commented.

He attributed much of the county's past economic growth to the expansion of Borg Warner Chemicals, Inc., which had an $85 million project underway with one construction phase in progress and two more phases planned.

He said he feels Borg Warner is particularly beneficial to the county because it is a stable industry and does not depend on market conditions like oil and gas, which have benefitted the county in the past.

"We had a lot of gas and oil related industries and a lot of things like barge building, but they didn't stay for more than a few years," he said.

He said he hopes to see more industries similar to the chemical plant come into the county.

Necaise also said he hopes 1986 will be a prosperous year for everyone.

"The material is trapped at the end of the slip where the barge is moored and is being removed," he said.

Rogers added that none of the material had entered any waterways in the area. The Borg Warner dock is located on the Mulatto Bayou which flows east into the bay.

Safety procedures for the styrene cleanup requires no ignition source in the area.

Styrene is similar to gasoline with regard to flammability and vapors, Kowal said.

"There will be little or no environmental damage," Rogers stated.

He credited this to the quick response of Borg Warner employees in containing the spill and the barge people for beginning cleanup so quickly.

"The Borg Warner people responded in a very timely and professional manner," he added.

Representatives of Borg Warner, Chopin and state-federal representatives from the Bureau of Pollution Control and the U. S. Coast Guard are coordinating cleanup operations and will continue to monitor the situation.

Quotables by CUEVAS

It has been many years since we have seen the fog in the area as thick as it was Thursday morning.

It was the topic of discussion around town by most folks for the entire day.

It was kind of scary trying to take photos of the accidents on the Bay Bridge attributed to the fog.

It also was hard to see from one side of the structure to the other, much less any distance down the highway.

Fog can be a problem and folks traveling to New Orleans Thursday also had troubles with many being late for work.

The Grand Jury report issued late Friday made several recommendations, and one was an item that has already been discussed on many occasions.

The establishment of a central dispatcher for the sheriff's department in addition to Bay St. Louis and Waveland police departments in the new county jail is the talked about recommendation.

The schedule for the new jail is to have the facility completed by next January.

Things start by talking about them and in many instances, after several years they come into reality.

So, one day there may be a central dispatch for local law enforcement agencies.

It appears our State Senators and Representatives have some very big issues facing them in Jackson.

The primary concern of all appears to be state finances, which are also a problem for most local governing bodies.

Another big item facing the Legislature is the College Board's proposal to close two state universities, in addition to cutbacks of other educational facilities.

We also know many Coastal residents are concerned about the proposal to close the University of Southern Mississippi at Gulf Park.

State Senator Gene Taylor has introduced a bill to close four of the state's eight universities but the bill will not affect Gulf Park.

There will for sure be some arguing points on the College Board's recommendations, and a lot of discussions on Senator Taylor's bill.

Lack of funding appears to be the primary reason for the two proposed school cutting measures.

Next year is an election year for state and local officials and a tax increase this session is very unlikely.

We will just have to wait and see, and expect many cost cutting proposals our Legislative bodies will have to make.

Edwin Lloyd Pittman, Attorney General

Attorney General Ed Pittman announced that General Motors Corporation has paid $305,000 to 840 Mississippi consumers from January 1984 to February 1985 through a nationwide mediation/arbitration program conducted by the Better Business Bureau.

Under the Federal Trade Commission's Consent Order, General Motors set up a nationwide arbitration program in conjunction with the National Council of Better Business Bureaus through which consumers may obtain reimbursements or repairs for the following problems:

- 1) The THM 200 transmission,
- 2) Camshafts and lifters in 305 and 350 cubic inch Chevrolet gasoline engines, and
- 3) Fuel injection pumps and fuel injectors in 350 cubic inch Oldsmobile diesel engines. Pittman states that the program will continue to operate through 1991.

Once consumers contact the Better Business Bureau, an arbitration hearing should be held within 60 days.

The arbitration hearing will be at a time and place convenient to the consumer. There will be no charge to consumers, nor will they need lawyers. It is important that consumers bring any documents they have concerning their problem, including copies of repair bills.

The arbitration hearings are binding on General Motors, but not on the consumer, unless he or she accepts the award. A consumer who is not satisfied with the outcome of the hearing may reject the arbitrator's decision and pursue the matter further through a private suit.

Arbitration information kits which provide factual details on each of the three (3) major problem areas have been prepared by the Attorney General's Office of Consumer Protection and are available to consumers.

For further information, write the Attorney General's Office, Consumer Protection Division, P.O. Box 220, Jackson, MS 39213 or call 354-6018 or our toll free number 1-800-223-5615.

PHYSICIAN'S FRIEND—The old adage that "a dog is man's best friend" may carry more weight than ever imagined. Preliminary studies indicate that there is a link between animals and improved human conditions. Improved physical health and longevity, reduced stress and blood pressure, improved mental well-being and increased self-esteem, it seems are among the "extra"

benefits of having a pet. Sally, center, on loan from the Louisiana SPCA, obviously was a big hit with patient Walter Crawley of Waveland and Angie Weber, recreation therapist at The Rehabilitation Institute of New Orleans at F. Edward Hebert Hospital. Hebert sponsors monthly visits by the SPCA.

Matters of Health

BACTERIAL ARTHRITIS

I've read that arthritis can be caused by infections. How does this happen and is the arthritis permanent?

Infection, in some instances, may cause swelling and pain in the joints.

Bloodstream-borne bacteria - a sign of disease - usually are the culprit. These bacteremic episodes may lead to septic, or infected, joints when the bacteria crosses from the blood vessels into the fluid bathing the joints.

Bacterial arthritis, however, also may be a result of direct infection which can occur after joint surgery, a penetrating wound or an injection into the joint.

A septic joint caused by blood infection usually occurs in someone prone to such an infection. At-risk individuals often have poor infection-fighting immune systems, resulting from some underlying chronic illness, such as cancer and liver disease. Arthritis, joint trauma - including surgery, lupus, gout and pseudogout - are other conditions that many predispose to bacterial arthritis.

Bacterial arthritis can strike at any age, however, which bacterial agent infects the joint is fairly age-specific. The elderly and the very young, mostly newborns, who acquire bacterial arthritis often are infected with streptococcal and staphylococcal bacteria.

Intravenous drug users, patients with indwelling catheters, and those with prior joint damage more often are infected with unusual bacteria, such as gram-negative bacilli.

These infections often are difficult to eradicate. This form of bacterial arthritis usually involves only one joint. The knee is affected most often, followed by the shoulder, wrist, hip, finger joints, and elbow joints.

Young, healthy adults are those most likely to be infected by the gonorrhea class of bacteria. This form of bacterial arthritis is now one of the most frequently seen in many hospitals. Gonococcal infection often involves two or more joints. In addition, these infections cause skin sores on the arms, legs and trunk.

Direct infection of the joints is another source of bacterial arthritis. Deep penetrating wounds, certain bone-disease complications, intra-articular steroid injections, arthroscopy and prosthetic-joint surgery each may introduce bacteria into the joint space.

A low incidence of direct joint infection is attributed to artificial joint surgery, but the occurrence can rise in cases which involve underlying joint diseases such as osteoarthritis or rheumatoid arthritis. Further surgery on the replaced joint introduces a high risk for infection and may result in bacterial arthritis.

Treatment for bacterial arthritis includes using antibiotics, draining the swollen joint, and resting the joint. Antibiotic therapy usually is prescribed aggressively and administered intramuscularly or intravenously.

Response is rapid in most cases, but total removal of the joint infection may take several weeks.

Anti-inflammatory medications also may be necessary in some cases to relieve the pain and swelling in difficult cases. Recovery is complete in most cases of bacterial arthritis caused by gonococcal infection.

Residual joint damage, however, is not uncommon in patients afflicted with staphylococcal or streptococcal infection.

The outcome depends on a number of factors - the duration of symptoms before treatment, the body's reaction to infection, prior joint disease, the type of bacteria, and the joint or joints involved.

Bacterial arthritis is a serious condition. It should receive immediate medical attention.

Readers may suggest future topics by writing to "Matters of Health", the University of Mississippi Medical Center, 2500 North State Street, Jackson, Mississippi 39216-4505.

In its statement the council said, "Based upon ability to pay, Mississippians are already among the most heavily burdened taxpayers in the southern states, and tax increases in excess of $235 million have been imposed over the past four years. The Mississippi Economic Council opposes, and encourages all Mississippians to oppose, any additional tax increase at state or local levels until actions are taken to assure improvements in the use of tax dollars already collected."

In other actions, the council endorsed legislation restricting collection of "non-economic" damages in liability lawsuits as a means of curbing the rapidly expanding number of lawsuits being filed against businesses, called for creation of a state department of transportation, and adopted a resolution commending the life of Edmund Taylor of Greenville, the council's founder 37 years ago who died recently.

The People's Business

A Weekly Editorial
From Mississippi Economic Council

The Mississippi Economic Council has called for a merger of the state's Department of Economic Development and the Research and Development Center in order to strengthen Mississippi's economic development effort.

At the same time, the council, the state's largest association of business, industrial, and professional members, called for specific steps by the Legislature and declared that the organization will oppose any efforts to increase taxes in Mississippi until better use is made of tax dollars presently collected.

Statements from the council came as the organization's board of directors held its regular semi-annual meeting in Jackson. Members of the 88-member board came from every geographic section of the state.

Announcement of the board's actions came from Marlin Ivey, a Kosciusko business owner who serves this year as MEC chairman.

The recommendation for a merger of the Department of Economic Development and the Research and Development Center follows a six-month study of the two agencies, Ivey said.

The study was conducted by a special MEC committee chaired by Jackson banker Paul Fugate. Fugate's committee is a part of the Council's Committee on State and Local Government chaired by Jackson attorney Kane Ditto.

The study of the merger of the two economic development agencies included examination of the legislative origin of the two bodies, legislative intent in the creation of the agencies, and activities of the two agencies since their creation.

The report said Mississippi's dream was that the partnership between the then Agricultural and Industrial Board - now the Department of Economic Development - and the R & D Center would give to this state a development program "unlike anything in America."

That dream, said MEC, has never been realized.

County Doll and Toy Fund efforts commended

The Sea Coast Echo
Bay St. Louis

Dear Sir:

I am writing this note to commend the outstanding job done by personnel of the Bay St. Louis Fire Department, the Sheriff's Department, the Welfare Department, and the citizens of Diamondhead this past Christmas in collecting and distributing gifts and food for less privileged county residents, especially children.

It has been a thrill to have assisted the Parents Association of Diamondhead (PAD) in this project for the last several years.

Mrs. Guy King, the Diamondhead coordinator for the project, and I have had numerous contacts with both welfare and fire department personnel during this drive, and their dedication is very heartwarming.

They spent countless hours buying, wrapping, refurbishing, and delivering presents throughout the county to people who otherwise would not have had any celebration at all.

When PAD learned through the Welfare Department of the tremendous need this year, it decided to ask the Diamondhead community to participate.

In the past, the members of PAD and the students at Diamondhead Little School have been the contributors.

The response was excellent. Little School came through beautifully, as always, and the new Diamondhead Academy and the Girl Scouts were very active, and many individuals called us to ask to "adopt" children or even entire families for Christmas.

In the end, here in Diamondhead alone, we collected more than 200 wrapped new presents, and a huge amount of food—enough to supply large food baskets to many families.

In this connection, the Diamondhead Supermarket owner-manger, Mr. Howard Hamilton, should be mentioned because he gave a fine price on purchases for the project made through the store.

The publicity given by the Echo was excellent, and brought to the attention of the public the great need for giving that exists in this area.

We hope that residents of Hancock County will keep up this tradition and that other communities will become involved.

Chief Andrew Lizana of the Bay St. Louis Fire Department told us that about 650 children's needs had to be met this past Christmas (they were) and it is probable that even more will need assistance next year.

Many of the donors who spoke with us said that the greatest fun that they had during the Holiday Season was in buying gifts for these people.

We are already thinking forward to Christmas of 1986, and hope that even more people will join in this worthwhile drive.

Very sincerely,
Frances Pike

Boyfriend arrested in Yetta stabbing

A rejected boyfriend has been arrested in connection with the stabbing death of former Bay St. Louis resident Maria Yetta.

A.J. Freeman of Kenner was arrested Monday in St. John the Baptist Parish, La., and charged with first-degree murder and attempted murder.

Yetta, 23, had apparently told Freeman she wished to stop seeing him when he visited her at her Metairie, La., apartment on Jan. 12 just before the stabbing occurred.

Freeman also allegedly attacked Yetta's roommate, 20-year-old Michelle Jones, who apparently attempted to aid Yetta when the man knocked her down and stabbed her in the parking lot of the Westchester Apartments.

Jones was scheduled to undergo surgery Friday at Charity Hospital

to facial damage sustained in the attack.

She reportedly told authorities that Yetta and Freeman were arguing about Yetta's decision not to see him any longer because he had been hitting her.

Yetta, the daughter of Marilyn Rauxet and stepdaughter of Nick Rauxet, both of Bay St. Louis, had lived in Metairie since October.

She was a native of New Orleans but had spent most of her life in Bay St. Louis, where she was a member of Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church.

She had been a cheerleader at North Bay Elementary School and Bay Junior High and was a Bay High graduate.

She had been an employee of Sound Shop in the Esplanade Mall in Kenner.

potential end of federal revenue sharing funds, scheduled to be discontinued this year.

One of his jobs as clerk is purchasing agent for the board of supervisors and Necaise will have to assist with implementation of any plan the board finds for functioning without those funds.

"We're worried that without the revenue sharing that the county has received since 1971 being cut out, the money from gas wells declining and the state enforcing the five percent limit on fund carryovers, money will be tight toward the end of the year."

"We can't raise taxes and may have to cut some services. It will be left to the board to decide which ones but the cuts will have to be made where they will have the least effect on the people," he added.

"County governments, unlike the federal governments, can't run on red ink."

"We're not overspending, but we would be losing about $500,000 in revenue sharing we've been accustomed to having."

"As a whole the county had a good year in 1985 and we're looking for a better one. We have a good county but we have to keep looking for ways to improve it and provide a better quality of government for less cost," Necaise said.

Necaise said he is also looking forward to the continued growth of the county, particularly economic growth through new industries coming in, like the proposed Baldwin Aircraft plant at Stennis Airport.

"If Baldwin's plans materialize, it will be a big boost for the county," the clerk commented.

He attributed much of the county's past economic growth to the expansion of Borg Warner Chemicals, Inc., which had an $85 million project underway with one construction phase in progress and two more phases planned.

He said he feels Borg Warner is particularly beneficial to the county because it is a stable industry and does not depend on market conditions like oil and gas, which have benefitted the county in the past.

"We had a lot of gas and oil related industries and a lot of things like barge building, but they didn't stay for more than a few years," he said.

He said he hopes to see more industries similar to the chemical plant come into the county.

Necaise also said he hopes 1986 will be a prosperous year for everyone.

Randolph, Superintendent of Hancock County Schools; Mr. Mike Necaise, Hancock County Chancery Clerk; Mr. Ronnie Peterson, Hancock County Sheriff; Mr. David Watts, Director of Hancock County Forestry Commission; Mr. John Rutherford, Hancock County Circuit Clerk; Mr. John Kirkland, Probation Officer, MDOC; Mr. James DeBlanc, Director of the Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission; Mr. Dolph Kellar, President of the Board of Supervisors; and Mr. Alvin Ladner, Investigator, Hancock County Sheriff's Department. We are satisfied that these offices are operating efficiently and within the scope of their duties.

In addition, the Grand Jury toured the Hancock Sheriff's office and jail, the Tax Assessor's Annex, Bayou Cadet facilities, Stennis Field Airport facilities, Port Bienville Industrial Park, and the Welfare Department.

We thank the Hancock County Retired Senior Citizens Volunteer Program for furnishing the Grand Jury with transportation and a courteous driver, Pamela Labat Jones.

The Grand Jury wishes to commend the Hancock County Sheriff's Department, the Bay St. Louis and Waveland Police Departments, and the Mississippi State Highway Patrol for their outstanding job as to the professional manner in presenting cases to the Grand Jury.

We recommend the following:

- 1) the establishment of a central police dispatcher to include the county and the municipalities to be housed in the new jail facility;

- 2) that the Board of Supervisors consider increasing the funding for the Hancock County Sheriff's Department;

- 3) that the Board of Supervisors take immediate action to provide adequate facilities for the Welfare Department as the present building and working conditions are substandard and unhealthy;

- 4) that Mr. Terrell Randolph, Superintendent of Education of Hancock County, continue to pursue the renegotiation of Section Sixteen (16) leases with speed and diligence.

Further, that a portion of the funds resulting from the lease renegotiations be set aside for the hiring of a land management consultant to help in the management of these lands. Additional help would enable Mr. Randolph to devote more time to the education of the children of Hancock County.

- 5) Further, that the Hancock County and Bay-Waveland Separate Municipal School Districts investigate a source of funding to reinstate the Drug Education Specialist into the education program of the County and City schools.

- 6) We recommend that the Port and Harbor Commission take immediate action to correct the deplorable condition of the grounds which exist at Bayou Cadet. Further, that the Commission conduct routine safety inspections of equipment in operation at the Bayou Cadet property.

- 7) We must commend the Port and Harbor Commission on their efforts at Stennis Field and request that they continue their efforts to attract blue chip industries in order to utilize to the fullest extent the facilities.

The Grand Jury heard evidence and considered allegations concerning misconduct in the operation of The Methodist Children's Center. After hearing testimony of several witnesses, the Grand Jury concluded that there was insufficient proof to substantiate any of the charges and determined the accusations were unfounded.

This Grand Jury worked in unison and harmony in carrying out all its duties and responsibilities. We wish to express our gratitude to the Court; the District Attorney, Mr. Coto Caranana; Assistant District Attorney, Mr. J. P. Compretta; Assistant District Attorney, Ms.

Margaret Alfonso; Prosecuting Attorney, Mr. John Genin for their guidance and assistance.

Finally, we would like to thank the Honorable J. Ruble Griffin for the charge he gave us when we were empaneled. Our tenure has been very educational and enlightening into the problems of Hancock County.

We have completed our duties and respectfully ask to finally be discharged this the 17th day of January, 1986.

Friendship Oak Chapter DAR

BY JOE PILET, RECORDING SECRETARY

Mrs. James R. Thomas of Long Beach received a unanimous vote to serve as regent of the Friendship Oak Chapter, National Society Daughters of the American Revolution when that organization met recently at the Ramada Inn of Long Beach.

Mrs. George E. Cassis of Diamondhead who serves as chairman of the nominating committee said: "Our entire slate was unanimously accepted. They will be installed in May when our chapter meets beneath the Friendship Oak Tree. These officers were elected to serve a three year term and include Mrs. Robert C. Willems, vice regent; Mrs. Hazel Erhard, recording secretary; Mrs. Nunez (Joe) Pilet, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Larry R. Lisenbee, chaplain; Mrs. Wm. J. Gemmel, treasurer; Mrs. Philip R. Davenport, registrar; Mrs. Elsie Day Hutto, historian; and Mrs. Ruth Slade, librarian."

Prior to the luncheon, hosted by Mrs. Pilet, guests were welcomed and included Mrs. Francis McKendrick of West Palm Beach, Florida; Mrs. Jean Thomas of Long Beach, Ms. and Mrs. Marie Marlin of Goshen, Indiana. The long banquet table was tastefully decorated with low containers filled with a variety of carnations given by Mrs. Pam Welsh in memory of her father who established Renike Cypress Grove Nursery. Each person in attendance also received an assortment of favors provided by Merchants Bank, Peoples Saving and Loan, and Security Savings all of Bay St. Louis. Receiving the door prize provided by Mrs. Richard Thames was Mrs. George Lipscomb of Bay St. Louis.

Regent Davenport introduced prospective members who were voted upon and whose applications are being sent to headquarters in Washington for approval. These candidates include three sisters, Misses Kathryn Lee Kingsberry, Majorie Eaton Kingsberry and Barbara Loretta Kingsberry, all of Diamondhead, also Ms. Ava Warren of Long Beach and Ms. Elizabeth C. Bosley Shaw of Bay St. Louis.

Formally welcomed as new members were Mrs. Dorothy Roberts of Long Beach and Mrs. George Lipscomb of Bay St. Louis.

Mrs. Mark Payne of Long Beach discussed the issue of making it harder for spies. Her remarks were based on information gleaned from 'The National Defender.'

"Probably," the article stated, "the most controversial of the commission's recommendations is for the expanded use of random lie detector tests for military personnel and civilian contractors who handle sensitive material. Many people recoil instinctively to such tests. Random polygraph tests raise questions about invasion of privacy and about the presumption of innocence and loyalty. However, people who voluntarily take jobs entailing access to sensitive defense secrets must be deemed to have waived at least some of their rights to privacy."

The lie detector is an impersonal machine, Payne explained, and added: "Yet the machine because it is impersonal, can dispel distrust as well as raise it."

Assisting Regent Davenport in leading the ritual was Mrs. Erhard, serving pro tem as chaplain.

The next meeting of the chapter is scheduled for Wednesday, Feb. 12, with Mrs. Lisenbee serving as hostess, and guest speaker Mrs. Tate Thigpen presenting a program on music of the South.

"The material is trapped at the end of the slip where the barge is moored and is being removed," he said.

Rogers added that none of the material had entered any waterways in the area. The Borg Warner dock is located on the Mulatto Bayou which flows east into the bay.

Safety procedures for the styrene cleanup requires no ignition source in the area.

Styrene is similar to gasoline with regard to flammability and vapors, Kowal said.

"There will be little or no environmental damage," Rogers stated.

He credited this to the quick response of Borg Warner employees in containing the spill and the barge people for beginning cleanup so quickly.

"The Borg Warner people responded in a very timely and professional manner," he added.

Representatives of Borg Warner, Chopin and state-federal representatives from the Bureau of Pollution Control and the U. S. Coast Guard are coordinating cleanup operations and will continue to monitor the situation.

Broccoli has long been one of my favorite vegetables, so much so that I cannot understand why it is almost a stranger to some cooks' repertoires.

It's such a versatile vegetable, equally tasty raw or cooked - it adapts well to Hollandaise or cream or cheese sauces - it's delicious stir-fried with shrimp or chicken or meat - it's a good ingredient in many casserole dishes - and you can even make a "mock oyster" dip out of it that might fool even a veteran oysterman - and it's available in all its bright green flowery glory all year 'round - what more can you ask of one vegetable?

I have even used broccoli as a quite attractive centerpiece for a winter tea table, when my flower garden and budget were just about equally depleted! With a few green grapes and some roadside grasses, it drew compliments!

Although broccoli has been a favorite vegetable in Greece and in Italy for some two centuries, it seems to have been almost unknown until comparatively recent times in America.

Jefferson Davis is said to have grown broccoli at Monticello in the early nineteenth century, but it was not until Italian families from the "old country" brought broccoli seeds along with them to their new home that the hinterlands of Boston and New York began to bloom with these plants - and that was long before broccoli was known to the country as a whole!

I like broccoli, fresh (though you can buy it frozen, if you insist and don't mind it "mushy") and freshly cooked in the barest amount of water and topped with a bit of melted butter and a liberal squish of lemon. I like it cold, salad style, with a vinaigrette dressing - liberal with the olive oil, please - and again, a squish of lemon.

And, I like it raw - just for munching on the run, also as one of the raw vegetables, along with cauliflower and celery and carrots, on the appetizer tray, with or without a creamy dip. It's delicious, again raw, in salads - and it's tasty in many other ways.

Incidentally, or, rather, not so incidentally, when you cook your fresh broccoli, please remember to cook it in the least bit of water, to retain its crisp texture and to conserve the nutrients - else, you'll wind up with gray-green mush - and who wants that?

And, a few times or so, take the cover off the skillet or shallow pot in which you're quick-steaming the broccoli, so that it will stay that happy green! And, for a somewhat off-the-beaten-path recipe for broccoli, here's:

BEEF AND BROCCOLI STIR-FRY WITH GINGER

1 lb. very thinly sliced round or flank steak
1 clove garlic, minced
3/4 lb. broccoli flowerettes*
2 Tbsp. oil
1 Tbsp. cornstarch
2 Tbsp. sherry
2 Tbsp. soy sauce
1 tsp. minced ginger root (or a dash of ground)

* Save the remainder of the broccoli for quick-steaming or salad or soup.

Combine the sherry and 1 tablespoon soy sauce, ginger and garlic with the cornstarch, stirring well, then add the beef and marinate for 10 or 15 minutes.

In a wok, or heavy shallow skillet, heat a tablespoons of the oil, and stir-fry the broccoli for just a very few minutes, no more than five or so, just until tender-crisp, and remove.

In the remaining oil, heated, stir-fry the beef just until it loses its rosy red color. Stir in the broccoli, along with another teaspoon of soy sauce mixed with little water, adding water if needed, and cook until the sauce thickens and shines. Serve with rice. (Six servings)

P.S. A vegetarian friend vows that this dish is delicious without the beef!

WHIPLASH INJURIES

Whiplash injuries, of course, occur from auto accidents, falls and fighting. They are associated with some degree of injury to ligaments and muscles along with pinched nerves. All such injuries of the neck can be serious and bring about dangerous malfunction within the nervous system. The science of Chiropractic has developed a special technology which promotes faster healing while minimizing the serious consequences of the condition. Every injury of this nature should be examined by a doctor of Chiropractic as he has the training and experience which qualify him to aid in rapid recovery.

Trinity Episcopal Church in Pass Christian was the setting for the December 28 marriage of Alane Ruth Carlson of Bay St. Louis and Lt. Charles Allan Young of Beaufort, S. C. The Rev. Charles Johnson and The Rev. V. Ambrose McInnes OP jointly officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alben F. Carlson Jr. of Bay St. Louis. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. William Waller Young Jr. of New Orleans.

Decorating the altar were arrangements of fuji mums, snapdragons and mixed pom-poms.

Similar arrangements adorned the gothic column pedestals flanking the altar. Holly clusters with ivory bows marked the family pews.

Nuptial music was presented by Gary Lamb, organist, and Mrs. Alan Noonan, soloist, both of Bay St. Louis.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of pale ivory silk finish satin with portrait neckline above a fitted bodice appliqued with French Alencon lace generously embroidered with seed pearls. Full puffed satin sleeves featured attached lace gauntlets. The slightly raised waistline gave way to a circular skirt bordered at the hemline with Alencon lace, which also adorned the chapel length train.

She wore a contour wreath of ivory silk flowers and pearls with attached fingertip veil of illusion secured with tiny ribbons.

The bride carried a nostalgic bouquet of white roses, stephanotis, freesia and springerl fern, which topped a prayer book given to her as a child by family friends.

Cheryl Carlson of Atlanta, Ga. attended her sister as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Charles Boudreaux, sister of the bride, and Anne Young, sister of the groom, both of New Orleans; and Gayle Canaga of Ocean Springs.

The bride's attendants were identically attired in tea length gowns of burgundy velvet, each with portrait neckline, puffed sleeves and a basque bodice with asymmetrical waistline emphasized with self-bow at the hip.

They carried light and airy nosegays of alstroemeria, freesia and ming fern. The honor attendant's bouquet also included pink tea roses.

Flower girls were Misses Aimee Boudreaux, niece of the bride, and Margaret Young, niece of the groom, both of New Orleans.

They each wore a floor length dress of damask rose with antique ivory lace collar and ivory satin sash at the waist. Baby's breath wreaths with pink tea rosebuds adorned their heads.

Thomas Stockmeyer of New Orleans was best man.

Groomsmen were Dr. Charles Boudreaux, brother-in-law of the bride; John Young, brother of the groom, both of New Orleans, and Lt. John Hurt of Beaufort, S. C.

Ushers were William W. Young III and Stephen Young of New Orleans, brothers of the groom.

Andrew Williams of Picayune, nephew of the groom, was altar boy. Serving as acolyte was Karl Stroh of Bay St. Louis.

Mrs. Carlson chose for her daughter's wedding a viridian crepe afternoon length dress, softly gathered at the shoulders and waist, with a modified V-neckline and dolman sleeves.

The groom's mother chose a royal blue tea length silk dress with an obi sash and jewel neckline.

A reception followed the ceremony at Grass Lawn in Gulfport.

Decorating the reception area were arrangements of fuji mums, snapdragons, euphorbia, alstroemeria, pom-poms and roses accented with burgundy and ivory candles.

Following a wedding trip to Puerto Rico and St. Croix, the couple resides in Beaufort, S. C.

MRS. MICHAEL SCOTT MAGEE

Enright-Magee

Mary Colleen Enright and Michael Scott Magee were married at 11 a.m. Saturday, December 14, at Our Lady Queen of Heaven Catholic Church, Lake Charles, La. The Rev. Herman Ogea officiated at the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with red poinsettias and palms.

The bride is a daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John Edward Enright of Lake Charles. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Vernon Magee of Bay St. Louis.

Scripture readings were presented by Judy Golson and Cindy Smith of Lake Charles and a program of nuptial music preceded the wedding vows.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white satin. French re-embroidered Alencon lace, accented with beads and sequins, adorned the basque bodice with a Queen Anne neckline and long tapered sleeves. The bodice back featured sheer insets, tapering to the waist with small bridal buttons. The fully gathered skirt extended gracefully into a cathedral length train with a narrow border of lace at the hemline. Her double veil of silk illusion fell from a Juliet cap of matching satin trimmed with tiny seed pearls, silk roses and Alencon lace.

She carried a cascading bouquet of white bridal roses and holly berries interspersed with cedar and fir greenery. Stems of eucalyptus enhanced the draping affect of the bouquet.

Ellen Enright of Lake Charles, a sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Sharon Enright Lyles, also of Lake Charles and a sister of the bride, was the matron of honor.

Bridesmaids were Pamela Quarles and Suzanne Abraham, both of Lake Charles; Pamela Magee of Charlotte, N.C.; and Amy Magee of Bay St. Louis, sisters of the groom.

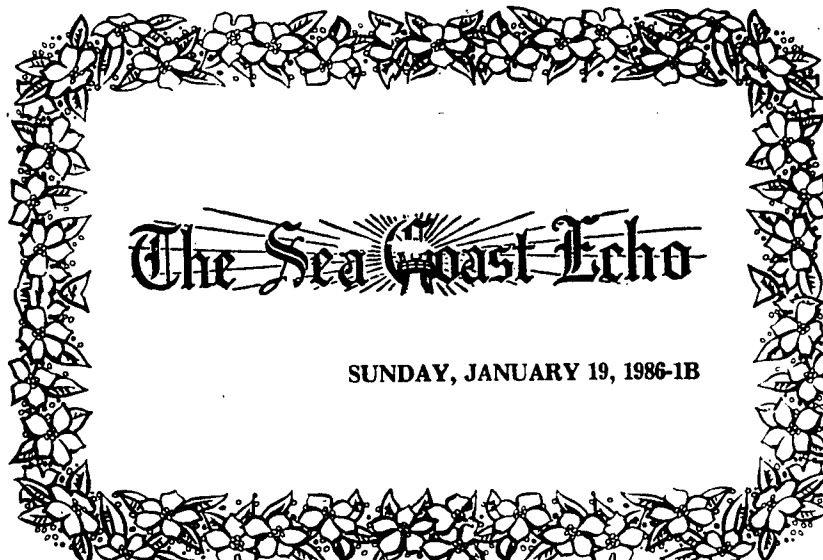

The attendants wore tea length skirts of green moire taffeta with blouses of white batiste enhanced with lace. A wide sash of seasonal colors complimented each ensemble. They carried presentation bouquets of cedar, fir and holly berries with red velvet bows.

Ronald Magee of Long Beach, brother of the groom, was best man.

Groomsmen were Andrew Covington and Robert Blair, both of Dallas, Texas; James Fine of Bay St. Louis; Russell Golson of Lake Charles; and Jay Bailey of New Orleans, La.

A reception followed the ceremony at the Pioneer Club in Lake Charles.

On return from a wedding trip to Copper Mountain, Colorado, the couple will reside in Lake Charles.

Benvenuti-Scianna

Miss Mary Ann Scianna, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Scianna Sr., and David Michael Benvenuti, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter J. Benvenuti Sr., all of Bay St. Louis, exchanged wedding vows in a double ring ceremony at Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church at 6:30 p.m. Friday, December 27.

The Rt. Rev. Monsignor James McGough performed the double ring ceremony before an altar embanked with red and white poinsettias and evergreens decorated with ivory lace bows on either side.

Mrs. Kenneth Scianna of Corpus Christi, Tex., and Robert Johnson of Bay St. Louis were soloists, accompanied by Mr. Johnson, William Burke and Philip Leonard on guitar and organ.

Mrs. Paul Scianna, sister-in-law of the bride, of Houston, Tex., delivered the readings. Mrs. Richard Hubbard of Waveland and Miss Mary Kay Benvenuti of Bay St. Louis, sisters of the groom, were offertory gift bearers.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a Priscilla of Boston original gown of ivory silk satin. The fitted bodice featured a wedding band neckline and English net yoke with Alencon lace appliques beaded with Majorca pearls. The fingertip-length net sleeves were heavily adorned with lace appliques and pearl and self-covered buttons. The sheath skirt, appliqued with lace and pearls, extended into a cathedral train. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls worn by her great-grandmother, Mrs. Ralph S. Blaize Sr. on her wedding day in 1900. Her ivory tulle veil was held by a wreath of ivory roses.

She carried a mother-of-pearl missal used by her mother on her wedding day, topped with a spray of fresh ivory, roses, lilacs and fern interspersed with satin ribbon and net.

Miss Danita Scianna, sister of the bride, of Bay St. Louis, was maid of honor.

English net. A white orchid corsage complemented her ensemble.

24-HOUR EMERGENCY CARE

When accidents happen or illness strikes, the need for prompt, expert medical care can be critical.

Now you can have peace of mind, knowing that 24-hour emergency care is only minutes away.

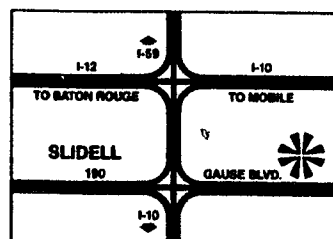

NorthShore Regional Medical Center offers complete round-the-clock emergency medical services:

- The only ambulance service on the North Shore with 24-hour coverage by national registered paramedics, from the emergency site to the hospital. Registered paramedics are specialists in recognizing and responding to life-threatening crises.
- A highly skilled, caring emergency and trauma staff, backed by our medical staff of leading area physicians.
- State-of-the-art equipment in ambulances and the Emergency Room.

Another advantage: tiered-pricing

Tiered-pricing means that you pay only for the degree of care you require. Unlike most hospitals, NorthShore does not charge a flat fee for Emergency Room admissions. In other words, a sore throat doesn't cost you as much as a serious fracture.

For yourself and your loved ones, remember NorthShore's 24-Hour Emergency Care Ambulance Service: 646-5050. Outside Louisiana, call toll-free: 1-800-344-6695.

1 mile south of the I-10, I-12 and I-59 intersection. Adjacent to the Gause Blvd. (100) exit, east of I-10.

County Agent's Notes

By Lee Taylor

Farmers meeting scheduled

Area farmers who have questions about the Farm Bill passed by Congress in late 1985 are urged to attend a meeting about the bill on Thursday at the Dixie Electric Power on Hwy. 84E in Laurel.

The meeting will begin at 9:30 a.m. and end at noon, said Lee Taylor, county agent in Hancock County.

"The purpose of this meeting is to provide specific information to farmers about the Farm Bill and how various provisions of the bill will impact on farmers," Taylor said.

Specialists with the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service at Mississippi State University will present the program. They also will be available to answer questions about different aspects of the bill.

The meeting here is one of five the Extension Service is holding throughout the state in late January to update farmers on the 1985 Farm Bill.

Taylor said information will be presented at the meeting about how key provisions in the Farm Bill will affect major commodities produced in the area.

The bill calls for lower loan rates for many crops, a freeze on target prices in 1986, and in 1987 for some crops, and a general reduction in target prices in 1988 through 1990.

A conservation reserve program also is included that encourages farmers to take erodible cropland in production out of production. The move is an effort to conserve soil and reduce agricultural production.

Taylor said while the short-term impact of the Farm Bill may be slightly negative for farmers, the longer term effects should help reduce agricultural production and make U.S. farmers more competitive.

All interested individuals are invited to the meeting.

SGTHALE

Staff Sgt. Larry D. Hale, son of Wanda Gipson of 7934 Ewa Place, Diamondhead, has re-enlisted in the U.S. Army at Fort Polk, La., after 19 years of military service.

Hale is a tactical command chief with the 19th Field Artillery. He is a 1968 graduate of Hazelwood High School, Florissant, Mo.

Military Mention

PVT VESTAL

Pvt. Alan B. Vestal, son of William J. Vestal of Waveland, has completed one station unit training (OSUT) at the U.S. Army Infantry School, Fort Benning, Ga.

OSUT is a 12-week period which combines basic combat training and advanced individual training.

The training included weapons qualifications, squad tactics, patrolling, land mine warfare, field communications and combat operations. Completion of this course qualifies the soldier as a light-weapons infantryman and as an indirect-fire crewman.

Soldiers were taught to perform any of the duties in a rifle or mortar squad.

He is a 1985 graduate of Bay Senior High School, Bay St. Louis.
